

Connecting with District 70

Welcome to the tips and tricks for plugging into District 70. We've put together a short list to help you connect with your school(s), as well as the entire district, so you will always know the latest news and developments.

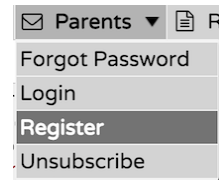

District Website - www.d70schools.org

Obtain the latest news about the district, schools, calendars, newsletters, business partners, employment, and teacher podcasts. You will also find the Virtual Backpack, which contains links to important and approved community and non-profit flyers. District 70 website has been optimized for mobile device use as well.

Email Updates

Through your school's website, register your email address, so you will receive news directly from your school(s) and important breaking news from the district. This is the best way to get the news to come to you. Click the link in the top menu for Parents, then Register, then complete the form.

Facebook

A link to the District 70 Facebook "fan page" can be found on the main website, www.d70schools.org, as well as all the individual school sites. Here we post news from around the district, and offer two-way conversations for comments and questions.

Twitter

Link to the District 70 Twitter page @LibertyvilleD70 where the district shares brief headline news.

SchoolMessenger

An automated notification system that calls you at your primary phone number and sends email when school is canceled because of severe weather or in the event of any important breaking news. You, as a parent, are automatically included in this service when you register your child for school and provide your primary phone and email information. If you wish to receive SMS (text) messages as well, please send a text message to 67587 from your mobile device and enter the word YES to opt in for SMS notifications. Please inform your school(s) if you change phone numbers or email during the school year.

Libertyville District 70 Communication

To be more ecologically friendly, all Libertyville District 70 communications are now sent via email. School newsletters are published online, offering parents and students easy access to pertinent information. Each time a school newsletter is published, an email notification is sent to parents who have registered their email address with their child's school. Approved flyers from community and nonprofit agencies also are published online under the Virtual Backpack on each school's website and on the district website. Remember to check the backpack often to stay informed.

Parent Email Addresses are Essential!

In order to make this approach to communication successful, it is essential to have current parent email addresses in our system. Some of the school/district information that is sent via email includes the following:

- School Closings (i.e. weather)
- Parent/Teacher Conferences
- School Newsletters
- Family Association Information

To register your email address, go to your school's website. Click the link in the top menu for Parents, then Register, then complete the form.
